

California
Learning
Connection

Homework Help: Quality vs. Quantity

Do you ever find yourself struggling to appropriately help your child with homework? When it comes to helping your child, your main focus should be on quality instead of quantity.

Providing Quality over Quantity

Encourage and Motivate

Take interest in your child's school work. Encourage and motivate them to excel in school, but don't pressure them. If your child seems to be struggling it is important that you try and help them. However, if further help is needed it is essential you get them the right kind of help. There are many tutoring, and homework help options.

More Information

We can help!

Tutoring & Homework Help

If you find yourself struggling to provide the help your child needs for their homework we are here to help. Our wonderful tutors at CLC are here to take the stress away and help your child excel. For more information on Homework Help and other Specialized Tutoring programs we offer please visit our website here.

California Learning Connection
Center for Communication Skills
Goodfellow Occupational Therapy
2505 W. Shaw Bldg. A
Fresno, CA 93711
559-228-9100
www.clconnect.com

